POLLARD'S GREAT IN "THE RUNAWAY GIRL"

The show last night was far and way the best that has been given here by the Lilliputians or any other 1 professional company for longer than the average citizen can remember. It is perhaps the liveliest in the repertoire of these versatile oungsters, and it is certain that hey are more at home in it than in The audience was delighted with the whole play, and applause, calls, one began to wender how the children could answer them all. Perhaps the most popular man in the theater was that diminutive but lively bit of books for sale at the Bulletin humanity, Freddie Heintz. As Flipper, the jockey, fie was simply killing, so everybody said. The audience laughed and roared and shouted till new cause for mirth. Miss Ada Hind, who had the leading part of the Runaway Girl, made a hit for herself. She is a very talented little actress, and her singing and dancing were especially worthy they were hourse and still the elev-of mention. "The Runaway Girl" will be played tonight and at the matinee tomorrow and tomorrow night there will be a great vaudeville performance by the entire membership of the Lillipu-
